DRUNK IN THE STREETS

Some One Was Selling Liquor Yesterday.

NOT IN ONE PART OF TOWN

But Throughout the City Were Disgraceful Scenes Enacted—They Moved in Pairs, and Hundreds Saw and Commented on the Lack of Law.

Some one was selling liquor in the city yesterday, and the result of this breaking of the Sunday law was seen in the number of drunks who staggered through the streets, disgusting all who chanced to see them.

The saloon or saloons where liquor was sold did not wait until late in the day to begin operations, but started so early that an hour before noon a roughly dressed man well under the influence of liquor, staggered along Broadway. Soon after the churches had poured great crowds into the streets, another man attracted attention in the Diamond by his unsteady gait. Three men walked through Paradise alley about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, two of them drunk and the third attempting to help them home. When one of them reached his home, there was a row, and, although a policeman was in that part of town within five minutes after they had passed through the alley, he was too late to find anything wrong.

In Second street the scenes were most disgraceful. Eleven drunken men were during the afternoon and evening seen on the square between Union and Washington streets. They were in all stages of intoxication, but so drunk as to make it plain to even the casual observer that they had imbibed something more stimulating than the muddy waters of the river. When the Salvation Army were holding services in the street last night, a drunk came up to the crowd, and excitedly asked what was wrong. When informed that it was a religious meeting he swore a vigorous oath, and remarked that he thought it was a dog fight.

As the day grew old the evil increased, and the business section was dotted with drunks. A reporter stood at Fifth and Market streets before 9 o'clock, and counted within half an hour four drunken persons. What were the authorities doing to earn their salaries yesterday? The disgraceful scenes caused a vast deal of comment.

MOST ENCOURAGING.

Are the Weekly Reports of the Crockery Trade.

The most encouraging reports reach us from the pottery centers east and west, and we note that negotiations are pending in several places which will most likely end in starting up works that have been idle for some years past. General hotel china is in fair demand, and fine dinner ware, in the latest patterns, has brought in large orders to several firms. Toilets are also in good demand, and most of the new shapes and decorations put on the market in January have been taken hold of by the people in a manner that has surprised the oldest potters. Novelties and small articles are in especially good demand, and the potteries are busier now than for many months past.—China, Glass and Lamps.

NINETEEN PLAYERS

Will Help Baseball Clubs in Other Towns Win Games.

No less than 19 baseball players of the city will this season play with teams away from home. They will play as follows: McNicol and McCurran, Fall River, Mass.; Lynch and Twaddle, Auburn, N. Y.; Webber and Godwin, Jackson, Mich.; George Carey, Philadelphia; Mercer, Washington; Shaw, Syracuse; Will Carey, Wheeling, W. Va.; Reark, Smurthwaite, Reark and McShane, Toronto; Hester, Finch and Albright, New Cumberland; Doc Howard, Cuban Giants, and Baxter will sign this week with a college team.

MADE NO REPORT.

Mrs. Blackmore Has Heard Nothing From the Hotel Company.

The company of men who were looking at the Blackmore property on Sixth street have not as yet made a return to Mrs. Blackmore as to whether they would buy the land. The men were to send their agent last Thursday to make final arrangements, and it now looks as if they do not want the corner. The company are looking at other sites in that locality.

MUST HAVE BELLS.

The Bicycle Ordinance Will Be Rigidly Enforced.

Chief Johnson stated Saturday evening that from now on all owners of bicycles would be required to place bells on their wheels. "I intend to enforce this part of the wheel ordinance, and I also think it a good scheme if every rider would put a lamp on his bike," said the chief.

There is general complaint about scorching, and several people were knocked down Saturday evening. The fast riding is done principally by boys, who pay no attention whatever to the rights of pedestrians. The officers will enforce the ordinance to the letter, and it is probable some of the boys will learn they do not own the streets.

STRUCK IN THE FACE.

A Plucky Young Woman Knocked Down a Man Who Addressed Her.

A scene that amused a crowd occurred in Market street Saturday night soon after 9 o'clock. Two young men were passing along the street when they met an equal number of young women. One of the men made a remark which was construed as an insult by one of the women. She did not linger to argue the matter, but walking boldly forward struck out with hearty good will. There was muscle behind the well-fitting sleeve, and the blow tumbled the already-unsteady man, while the girls walked away as much amused as the crowd.

WHEAT HAS IMPROVED.

The Estimate Now Is 85 Per Cent of a Full Average Crop.

The Ohio crop report issued by the state board of agriculture Saturday, shows that wheat has improved in condition since March 1, to the extent of two points, and the condition is now put at 85 per cent of a full average crop. In some parts of the state marked improvement is reported, while in others, the condition is much worse than a month ago. Wheat suffered from cold and wet, and the poorest condition is reported from northwestern counties. In some counties ruined wheat ground will be plowed for oats.

A PUGILISTIC PROGRAM

Will Amuse the Members of the Athletic Club.

The East Liverpool Athletic club will hold a sparring contest in their rooms, April 12. The following bouts will be held: Ten rounds, between Black Frank and Dave Hall, of Cumberland, Md.; three rounds, James Weston and Ollie Wise; three rounds, Thomas Potts and an unknown; three rounds, Frank Salisbury and a Pittsburgh lightweight. Holtzmann and Woolscroft will wrestle for the championship, and Sandy McDermott will give a bag-punching exhibition.

BUSINESS IS ALL RIGHT

With the Liverpool People in Louisville.

John Sant, of Louisville, Ky., writes the News Review as follows:

"The Mansion Pottery company, of Louisville, has all the orders it can conveniently handle, and is now putting in steam power and steam heating; also a complete equipment of the most approved modern machinery made by a Canton company. Prospects for southern trade are better than they have been for years. The tide of Republican prosperity will certainly overflow as does the Mississippi."

RECOVERED THE WHEEL.

A Friend Had Borrowed It For a Short Ride.

Charley McKee left his bicycle in the street while he transacted some business at the Dickey stable Saturday afternoon, and, when he returned, the wheel could not be found. No one had seen it leave the spot, and he decided some one had stolen it. Later the wheel was returned, a friend having borrowed it for an hour's ride.

NO SERIOUS RESULTS.

The Story Said a Boy Had Been Brutally Whipped.

A story was circulated Saturday afternoon which said that a boy had been brutally whipped at the East End school. A reporter investigated, and found a teacher had thrashed the youth for some infraction of the rules, but did not leave bloody welts on his back, nor did she make it impossible for him to attend school.

After His Rent.

E. A. Albright this morning issued an execution against Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Bahl for $13, and Constable Lyon at once levied on their household goods. The execution was issued to satisfy a judgment given Mr. Albright several months ago against the defendants, for rent.

FOURTH WARD STRUCK

Election Officials Refused to Go to Work.

UNTIL EXTRA PAY WAS ASSURED

They Had No Desire to Handle Ballots For the School Board Without the Knowledge That Compensation Would Follow—How the Battle Goes.

The judges and clerks of the first precinct of the Fourth ward this morning refused to go to work unless they were given some assurance that they would be paid for the extra work in handling the school board ballots.

J. C. McClain, a member of the board of education, was present and told them he thought the matter could be satisfactorily adjusted, as he didn't think the board of education wanted anybody to work for nothing. This satisfied the strikers, and they went to work at once.

The same trouble occurred last year, but at another precinct, and experience should teach that some provision should be made to pay the clerks and judges for their extra labor as it is nothing more than just.

One member of the striking crew, when asked if he thought they would ever get any extra money for their labor, replied that if he didn't he would enter suit and let the courts settle the question for all time.

WOMEN NOT VOTING.

They Are Not Deeply Interested in the Election.

The ladies are not showing much interest in the election today. Neither are the men for that matter. Election officers have had a good time of it, and at no time or at any polling place has there been a rush. It is generally conceded that the lightest vote in many years will be polled. Clerks and judges do not like to estimate the vote on the jail, but the opinion is widespread that it will not win. The vote in the various wards at 3 o'clock was as follows:

First ward, 252, eight women; Second, 166, no women; Third, 250, four women; Fourth, 187, 17 women.

DIED IN PITTSBURG.

Miss Elizabeth Amalong Suffered From Consumption.

Miss Elizabeth Amalong, who for some time had been making her home with Reverend Reinartz's family, of this city, died yesterday at the Passavant hospital in Pittsburgh. The young lady went there some time ago because she was suffering from consumption. Miss Amalong was 16 years old, and was an orphan born in Greensburg, her parents dying when she was quite young. She has been making her home with Reverend Reinartz for a number of years. Interment will take place at the Passavant orphan asylum cemetery at Zeleniopot, tomorrow.

A DOG FIGHT

Caused Some Excitement at Fifth and Market.

There was a fierce dog fight this morning at the corner of Fifth and Market streets, and a great deal of excitement was created. A black, curly dog owned by Sam Strickline, engaged in mortal combat with a large bulldog. Sam got after the dogs with a buggy whip, but it had no effect whatever, and it took the united efforts of several bystanders to part the animals. The fight lasted fully 20 minutes, and a large crowd gathered.

ENFORCING AN ORDINANCE.

Boxes Must Not Be Left on Sidewalks During Sunday.

A number of merchants are in the habit of leaving empty store boxes on the sidewalks over Sunday. As a result a number of ladies had their dresses torn yesterday. There is an ordinance governing this, and officers are now notifying the dealers if they insist on leaving these boxes and barrels on the pavements, they will be asked to call at the mayor's office.

MUST APPEAR

To Show Reason Why the Road Should Not Be Built.

NEW CUMBERLAND, April 5.—[Special]—The commissioners of Hancock county today accepted the report of the viewers in reference to the public road that is to be built through the Gardner and Poutz property in Chester. Those opposed will be notified to appear at the next term of court to show reason why the road should not be built.

The International Meeting.

The thirty-second international convention of the Young Men's Christian association will be held at Mobile, Ala., April 21 to 25. The thirty-seventh annual conference of general secretaries will be held at Selma, Ala., April 27 to 29. The Ohio delegation will leave Cincinnati April 19, in a special palace car. The local association is entitled to two delegates.

A DARK HORSE

Is Expected to Get the Postoffice at Cannon's Mill.

The postoffice at Cannon's Mill is causing interest more than a little, and today it has almost reached excitement. R. O. Mayes wants the office off his hands, as his lease on the building has expired, and he does not care to rent for another term. Mr. Hutchinson, the blacksmith, wants the office, and has already fitted up a room in the building occupied by his shop. It is reported that a stock of groceries has been purchased, and he will operate a store in connection with the postoffice. Many persons object to the office being located in a blacksmith shop, and recent developments show that their influence has taken the form of a dark horse. The change will in all probability take place tomorrow morning, and all Cannon's Mill is wondering who will win.

A GOOD REPORT.

The Association Had a Very Good Month.

The report of Secretary Charles for the month of March shows a decided increase in the attendance at the Young Men's Christian association. In the religious department four meetings were held with an attendance of 420; the social committee conducted two receptions attended by 650; 19 persons attended three committee meetings. In the gymnasium 40 classes, or 817 people, took exercise, 460 baths were taken and 1,528 people visited the gymnasium. The association now has a membership of 245, and 74 persons have pledged themselves to bring in a new member before May 1. A record of the daily visitors to the association was not taken, but it will average in the neighborhood of 100. The interior of the bathrooms is being painted white.

A PAIR OF ARRESTS

Were Made by the Police Since Saturday.

Mrs. Gourley was enjoying a beautiful sleep last evening in Jackson square. About 8:30 she was awakened by Officer Woods, and then a lengthy debate ensued as to whether it would be well for her to take a ride in the patrol. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative, so this morning Mr. Gourley paid the costs of his mother's trouble, and now all is lovely. She had been drunk. John Kennedy was arrested Saturday evening by Officer Whan, and a charge of being drunk and disorderly placed against him. Mr. Kennedy was making life a torture for passersby on an uptown street, and for so doing he is out a $5.75 fine.

DICK ALBRIGHT FOR SHERIFF.

He Will Make the Race When Charley Gill's Time Is Out.

Dick Albright, who was for several years a constable in this city, and is well known throughout the country as an efficient officer, was in town today from East Palestine. To a number of close friends the information was given out that he would be a candidate for sheriff when the term of Sheriff Gill expires. He was in the field two years ago, but withdrew his name before the primaries. With Deputy Supplee and Mr. Albright in the fight, this city is to be well represented.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY

Honored an East Liverpool Lady at the Tiffin Meeting.

The Daughters of Liberty closed their state council at Tiffin last Saturday. Among the officers elected were vice councillor Mrs. Florence Sellers, of this city; treasurer, Mrs. Butler, Salem; associate councillor, Mrs. E. E. Justice, Salem. W. A. Randles, of Canton, was made councillor. The business of the order was found to be in first class condition, and since the last meeting there has been an increase in the membership.

A Bicycle Path.

President J. E. McDonald, of the South Side company, has announced his intention of building a first class cinder bicycle path from the bridge to the depot of the park, a distance of one mile. It will undoubtedly be patronized by a great many wheelmen of the city.

Building Operations.

Workmen began excavating this morning for the new dwelling house to be built in Sixth street by Frank E. Oyster, and A. W. Scott let the contract Saturday for the new dwelling house to be erected by J. H. Brookes.

A MAN MADE DOLLARS

At Least That Was What the Officer Said When

HE WAS ARRESTED IN CANTON

The Unfortunate Individual Is Emory Stackhouse, and They Say He Circulated Counterfeit Coin in This Vicinity—Ironton and Wellsville Visited.

The city will readily remember that a few weeks ago someone distributed counterfeit coin in this vicinity, one victim being a street railway motor-man and another a Wellsville grocer. Ironton also experienced some discomfort on account of the stranger, a very poor representation of the half dollar being scattered liberally through the town. It is believed the man who did it is now under arrest at Canton.

The arrest was made by Ferd Weber, deputy revenue collector, with the assistance of the Canton authorities. The name he gave was Emory Stackhouse, and he is a brother of one of the workhouse guards. He was found in the cook shanty at the workhouse quarry, and it is believed he spent the night there. The arrest was made on a warrant from the office of the United States marshal for the southern district of Ohio. It is alleged that he passed counterfeit money at Ironton and other places in this locality.

Deputy Keely, of Cleveland, has also been looking for the man for some time, and after tracing him to Canton lost him on the Waynesburg road. Keely then left the city for Uhrichsville, in the hope of locating him there, while Weber and the Canton officers continued their search in that place. A mold made of plaster of paris was found at the workhouse a few weeks ago. It was for the manufacture of dollars, and was a splendid piece of workmanship. Stackhouse was arraigned before United States Commissioner Falger at Massillon.

A GOOD DOG.

He Carries the Mail From Merrill to the Postoffice.

J. L. Swan was in Merrill the other day, and was interested in the knowledge displayed by a dog. When the animal saw the mail pouch thrown from the train he caught it in his teeth, and walking backward up the hill dragged it to the postoffice some distance away. Reaching the building he delivered his charge at the feet of the postmistress. The dog has done this every day for several years.

GOES UP ON ERROR.

The Anderson-Morrow Case Is to Have Another Hearing.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Eliza J. Anderson versus William E. Morrow were out but a short time Saturday afternoon, and returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff and order to vacate the premises. There is no appeal in a case of this kind, but it will not be the last of the suit, as the attorney for the defendant will carry it to common pleas court on error.

That Musical Question.

Should the musical union decide to permit the use of five pieces of music at Rock Spring, it will in all probability cause the parties who give dances in Brunt's hall to ask for the same privilege, as they are now compelled to use seven. This, in the minds of a great many people, is nothing more than just to all parties.

Will Play With Holy Ghost.

Pock Hester this morning signed a contract to play ball with the Holy Ghost college team, and will leave on the noon train tomorrow. Hester is a first class infielder, and Holy Ghost secured a good man when they signed him.

No Regular Meeting.

The regular meeting of the trustees of the Christian church will be held to-night at the residence of O. C. Vodrey, in Robinson street. Discussion in reference to the new church will form most of the business.

Died of Measles.

James McBee, of Chester, died at his home Saturday evening of measles after being sick but a few days. He will be buried today in Fairview cemetery. The young man was 21 years old.

First Visit in a Dozen Years.

Mrs. John Worcester, of Fairmount, W. Va., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Beardmore. This is the first time in 12 years the lady has visited the city, and she finds it greatly improved.

The report of Secretary Charles for the month of March shows a decided increase in the attendance at the Young Men's Christian association. In the religious department four meetings were held with an attendance of 420; the social committee conducted two receptions attended by 650; 19 persons attended three committee meetings. In the gymnasium 40 classes, or 817 people, took exercise, 460 baths were taken and 1,528 people visited the gymnasium. The association now has a membership of 245, and 74 persons have pledged themselves to bring in a new member before May 1. A record of the daily visitors to the association was not taken, but it will average in the neighborhood of 100. The interior of the bathrooms is being painted white.

A PAIR OF ARRESTS

Were Made by the Police Since Saturday.

Mrs. Gourley was enjoying a beautiful sleep last evening in Jackson square. About 8:30 she was awakened by Officer Woods, and then a lengthy debate ensued as to whether it would be well for her to take a ride in the patrol. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative, so this morning Mr. Gourley paid the costs of his mother's trouble, and now all is lovely. She had been drunk.

John Kennedy was arrested Saturday evening by Officer Whan, and a charge of being drunk and disorderly placed against him. Mr. Kennedy was making life a torture for passersby on an uptown street, and for so doing he is out a $6.75 fine.

DICK ALBRIGHT FOR SHERIFF.

He Will Make the Race When Charley Gill's Time Is Out.

Dick Albright, who was for several years a constable in this city, and is well known throughout the country as an efficient officer, was in town today from East Palestine. To a number of close friends the information was given out that he would be a candidate for sheriff when the term of Sheriff Gill expires. He was in the field two years ago, but withdrew his name before the primaries. With Deputy Supplee and Mr. Albright in the fight, this city is to be well represented.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY

Honored an East Liverpool Lady at the Tiffin Meeting.

The Daughters of Liberty closed their state council at Tiffin last Saturday. Among the officers elected were vice councillor Mrs. Florence Sellers, of this city; treasurer, Mrs. Butler, Salem; associate councillor, Mrs. E. E. Justice, Salem. W. A. Randles, of Canton, was made councillor. The business of the order was found to be in first class condition, and since the last meeting there has been an increase in the membership.

A Bicycle Path.

President J. E. McDonald, of the South Side company, has announced his intention of building a first class cinder bicycle path from the bridge to the depot of the park, a distance of one mile. It will undoubtedly be patronized by a great many wheelmen of the city.

Building Operations.

Workmen began excavating this morning for the new dwelling house to be built in Sixth street by Frank E. Oyster, and A. W. Scott let the contract Saturday for the new dwelling house to be erected by J. H. Brookes.

A MAN MADE DOLLARS

At Least That Was What the Officer Said When

HE WAS ARRESTED IN CANTON

The Unfortunate Individual Is Emory Stackhouse, and They Say He Circulated Counterfeit Coin in This Vicinity—Irontale and Wellsville Visited.

The city will readily remember that a few weeks ago someone distributed counterfeit coin in this vicinity, one victim being a street railway motor-man and another a Wellsville grocer. Irontale also experienced some discomfort on account of the stranger, a very poor representation of the half dollar being scattered liberally through the town. It is believed the man who did it is now under arrest at Canton.

The arrest was made by Ferd Weber, deputy revenue collector, with the assistance of the Canton authorities. The name he gave was Emory Stackhouse, and he is a brother of one of the workhouse guards. He was found in the cook shanty at the workhouse quarry, and it is believed he spent the night there. The arrest was made on a warrant from the office of the United States marshal for the southern district of Ohio. It is alleged that he passed counterfeit money at Irontale and other places in this locality.

Deputy Keely, of Cleveland, has also been looking for the man for some time, and after tracing him to Canton lost him on the Waynesburg road. Keely then left the city for Uhrichsville, in the hope of locating him there, while Weber and the Canton officers continued their search in that place. A mold made of plaster of paris was found at the workhouse a few weeks ago. It was for the manufacture of dollars, and was a splendid piece of workmanship. Stackhouse was arraigned before United States Commissioner Falger at Massillon.

A GOOD DOG.

He Carries the Mail From Merrill to the Postoffice.

J. L. Swan was in Merrill the other day, and was interested in the knowledge displayed by a dog. When the animal saw the mail pouch thrown from the train he caught it in his teeth, and walking backward up the hill dragged it to the postoffice some distance away. Reaching the building he delivered his charge at the feet of the postmistress. The dog has done this every day for several years.

GOES UP ON ERROR.

The Anderson-Morrow Case Is to Have Another Hearing.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Eliza J. Anderson versus William E. Morrow were out but a short time Saturday afternoon, and returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff and order to vacate the premises. There is no appeal in a case of this kind, but it will not be the last of the suit, as the attorney for the defendant will carry it to common pleas court on error.

That Musical Question.

Should the musical union decide to permit the use of five pieces of music at Rock Spring, it will in all probability cause the parties who give dances in Brunt's hall to ask for the same privilege, as they are now compelled to use seven. This, in the minds of a great many people, is nothing more than just to all parties.

Will Play With Holy Ghost.

Peck Hester this morning signed a contract to play ball with the Holy Ghost college team, and will leave on the noon train tomorrow. Hester is a first class infielder, and Holy Ghost secured a good man when they signed him.

No Regular Meeting.

The regular meeting of the trustees of the Christian church will be held tonight at the residence of O. C. Vordrey, in Robinson street. Discussion in reference to the new church will form most of the business.

Died of Measles.

James McBee, of Chester, died at his home Saturday evening of measles after being sick but a few days. He will be buried today in Fairview cemetery. The young man was 21 years old.

First Visit in a Dozen Years.

Mrs. John Worcester, of Fairmount, W. Va., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Beardmore. This is the first time in 12 years the lady has visited the city, and she finds it greatly improved.

Resting For a Week.

The West End pottery shut down this morning for one week.

Did you do your duty today and vote for a man who knows how to handle public business?

UNLESS all signs fail the Democrats of Ohio will learn today that the Republican victory last fall was for more than a minute.

The country roads are not as bad as usual this spring, but nature, and not the county commissioners, can be blamed for their excellent condition.

SECRETARY SHERMAN has th rheumatism, but it will be noticed that however much he may be stiffened it has not crippled his foreign policy.

The last month of the Wilson bill produced a surplus, but it was necessary that a Republican president be in office to restore the confidence required to bring it about.

The sentiment is spreading through Ohio that Mr. Bryan will confer a favor on Mr. Hanna if he carries out his present intention of making a speechifying tour through the state next fall.

If you have not voted, hasten to the polling place of your ward and cast a ballot for the jail. It will be a vote in the cause of humanity, a vote to place Columbiana county on the right side of the book.

SOME of our newspaper friends down
the river cannot agree upon the name of the man who was responsible for the capture of Morgan, the raider. They waste time. To no one man can that achievement be credited.

THE proposition of Representative
Corliss, of Michigan, to revoke all orders of President Cleveland extending the application of civil service laws will find ardent supporters in hard working Republicans, who are opposed to making this a government of Democratic office holders.

STOCK ARGUMENTS.

Forgetting that their stock arguments were met and conquered in the house,
those Democrats who are in the business of fighting the Dingley bill for the effect it will have upon their constituents are preparing to reproduce that mass of rot in the senate. All this is without reason. The tariff bill will eventually pass. What can possibly be gained by delay? The country demands a cessation of continued tariff agitation. It would have the protective principle, as embodied in the Dingley bill, placed upon the statutes and allowed to remain.
There is nothing to be gained by a long fight except disturbed conditions for whose existence there is no excuse.

FOREST FIRES RAGING.

Much Damage Being Done to Timber Lands in Pennsylvania.

BELLEFOUNTE, Pa., April 5.—The forest fires in the surrounding mountains are spreading at an alarming rate. All efforts to check the flames have proven futile and unless a heavy rain sets in many thousands of acres of valuable timber will go up in smoke. The fire originated in the middle section of the Nittany mountains from a spark from a locomotive, falling on a tract of dry grass. Heavy winds have prevailed for almost 40 hours and the flames are sweeping fiercely along the mountains from top to bottom. The approach of the fire to the lumber camps has caused great excitement and the woodsmen
have left their workings.

The course of the flames is constantly changing, making back firing useless.
Different crews have been sent out to fight the fires, but thus far they have accomplished little and their efforts are now being directed to confining the blaze to the mountains and to protect property in the clearings. The worst damage has been done in the timber lands several miles north of Milesburg.

Another fire has broken out in the Seven Mountains, near here, and is burning fiercely. This blaze is in the heart of the hemlock district and is doing much damage. Residents along the base of the mountain are praying for rain, which is the only thing that can now stop the course of the flames.

STRUTTSBURG, Pa., April 5.—The fires that have been raging in the Pocono and Blue Ridge mountains have thus far done considerable damage to timber and railroad ties. The farmers are ready to protect their homes in case of the spread of the flames, but there appears to be no immediate danger of this.
The weather continues dry and anxiety is felt lest it should continue so.

AN ALLEGED FILIBUSTER WANTED.

It Is Said He Has Just Returned to This Country From Cuba.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The United States authorities here have information that Colonel Emilio Nunez, who is wanted for organizing and taking part in a dozen or more filibustering expeditions, has within the past few days returned to this country from Cuba. It is also hinted that Nunez is hiding hereabouts, having come to New York with Dr. Joaquin D. Castillo, who after forfeiting his bond surrendered himself last week and was allowed to give new bail for trial. Colonel Emilio Nunez distinguished himself as a daring cavalry leader during the ten years war, and is hated by the Spaniards,
who would like to see him in prison.

It is said that since the breaking out of the present struggle for independence, under orders from General Calixto Garcia and Carlos Roloff, Nunez has been engaged in organizing and sending men, arms and ammunition to Cuba. He was tried here last winter for breaking the neutrality laws in connection with one of the Bermuda expeditions, but the jury disagreed.

A Flouring Mill Burned.

HONESDALE, Pa., April 5.—The flouring mill of Kuhnach & Seaman has been destroyed by fire, together with 5,000 bushels of corn and all the other stock. The loss is estimated at $15,000; insurance, $8,000. The large general store of J. S. O'Connor, together with the stock, dwelling and barns located at White Mills, has also been destroyed by fire. The loss is about $20,- 000; partly insured. The origin of the fire is not known. The hardest kind of work was necessary to save the large glass works of Dorfing & Sons and the surrounding dwellings from destruction.

A Physician Commits Suicide.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Dr. J. H. Walton, 30 years old, a well known physician of Dubuque, Ia., committed suicide in Lincoln park this afternoon by cutting his throat with a razor. The act was done before the eyes of hundreds of people along the lake shore drive, and while the doctor was walking with one of his most intimate friends, Dr. S. S.
Lindsay, also of Dubuque. He is believed to have been temporarily insane
as the result of a recent illness.

On Trial For Murder.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 5.—The preliminary trial of Annie Light and Malissa and Virgie Nunn, charged with murdering Myrtle Eggleston, a cousin of Mrs. Light, began here today with ex-Governor Wilson appearing for the defense. Virgie Nunn, one of the accused, is only 15 years old.
Owing to the atrocity of the crime the case will attract much attention.

Another Suit Against a Trust.

COLUMBUS, April 5.—Attorney General Monnet has brought another suit in the supreme court to break up the fire insurance trust. The defendant in this case is the Manchester Fire Insurance company of Manchester, England.

A Nation of Medicine Takers.

It is an accepted fact that the American people are the greatest users of medicines of one sort or another on the face of the earth. Imaginary ills make up a large part of man's earthly troubles.
Some people need only to read the vivid description of some chronic disease,
and they are at once victims to the complaint in question. Many patent medicine vendors make use of this peculiarity and lead some people to believe that their tired feeling comes from their blood not being rich and red. Millions would be saved and our general health would be better if we would take medicine only when really needed and then get a remedy specially prepared for the disease
with which we are suffering.

As an illustration, when you have sore throat, there can't be any imaginary about it. Your throat hurts;
probably is covered with white ulcer-ated spots, and you know you need a remedy. Use good judgment. Get a cure put up for this one purpose.
There is such a remedy. Tonsiline is its name, and it is a wonder in its field. Being put up for this one class of diseases, it cures quickly, surely,
and many times as if by magic. No family can afford to be without Tonsiline in the home, as it is a certain cure for Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Croup and Quinsy. Ask your neighbors who have used it. All druggists sell Tonsiline. 25 and 50 cents.

SEVERAL MORE BREAKS.

The Levee Gives Way and Floods Many Towns.

FEARS OF A STILL FURTHER RISE.

Funds and Provisions Becoming Scarce and the Condition of the Refugees Critical—Relief Steamers Return With Many People on Board.

MEMPHIS, April 5.—Another disastrous break in the Mississippi levee has occurred at Flower Lake, six miles below Tunica, Miss. The crevasse, while not yet of great width, is fully 15 feet deep and the water is pouring through the opening with fearful velocity. This will probably be the most destructive break that has occurred in the delta.
The most fertile farm lands of Mississippi, lying in Coahoma, Leflore, Quitman and Tallahatchie counties, in the northern part of the state, will be inundated and the newly planted corn crops will be laid in waste.

Fortunately no loss of life is reported,
the inhabitants of this stricken section having made preparations for just such a catastrophe as exists there. The condition of the poorer classes throughout the flooded area is indeed critical.
Thousands of refugees are being huddled on levees and spots of land waiting for relief.

The towns of Rosedale and Tunica report that everything possible is being done for these poor people, but that funds and provisions are fast becoming exhausted. In the little city of Rosedale alone 1,200 refugees are being cared for by the citizens. Half a hundred towns stand in six feet of water and the yellow stream is creeping up slowly but surely.

Advices just received tell of a break
in the levee two miles south of Helena, Ark. This is the levee for which the people of Southeastern Arkansas have made such a desperate fight. The waters from this break will flood a great area and in all probability will back up into the streets of Helena.

The relief steamer Ora Lee has arrived at Marianna, Ark., having made an expedition up the St. Francis river.
There were on board 160 refugees and 300 head of cattle. The steamer went on the St. Francis river as far as Cutoff, and then worked her way down stream, rescuing people from perilous positions. The suffering along the St. Francis river is appalling. The water throughout the entire neighboring country is from 8 to 15 feet deep.
The relief boat had on board the body of Mrs. McCain of Raggle City. The body was found at Raggle and it was taken to Marianna for burial, there being no land at the former place on which to give it interment.

TUNICA, Miss., April 5.—The Flower lake levee where it crosses Yellow bayou gave way under the tremendous pressure of water. The crevasse widened rapidly and is now 130 yards wide, through which the water is rushing with a deafening sound that only can be compared to that of the Niagara Falls. The levee was 30 feet high at the point where it broke. The people not only on the farms near the break, but upon those some distance from the levee back of it, have lost large numbers of cattle. So rapidly did the crevasse widen that the water rushing through it was sufficient to reach the lake parallel to the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad at Bashby station, which is five miles east of the break, in a remarkably short space of time and within an hour had raised the lake eight feet.

The relief steamer Titan, owned by the government, went back to the Williamson's store just below the break and brought up 92 souls from that and adjoining plantations, all of whom were taken in charge by Chairman Butler of the relief committee. They will be entered in the colored Knights of Pythias hall tonight and tomorrow
they will swell the population of camp Black. They were fed by the committee
as they had no time to save anything.
One man who lived immediately in front of the break, William Beasley, got his wife and six children to the levee by the hardest work, but the only piece of property they brought from their cabin was a solitary bed tick filled with straw.
The people brought here were those immediately behind the levees. Others further back had already gone to the hills. Tents had been reserved for them in anticipation of a big break at Hubbard or Fitzhugh, but the negroes had no idea that any levee would over by Ed Pillow would ever give way.

In the city the excitement is intense.
Everybody thought the water would back immediately into the town and there was great activity in moving household goods, especially in "jack-ing up" pianos. There were many consultations as to whether the water should be permitted to back into the city or an effort be made to keep it out.
In the northern end of the city the Arkansas Midland railroad's dump forms a splendid levee with only a single opening in it, a culvert 20 feet wide, left open to carry off the surface drainage of the city and this has been closed. Helena will be a dry town despite adverse circumstances, unless the drainage pumps should prove inadequate.

Another break has occurred. It was at the Hubbard front, just below the Fitzhugh place, just as the pressure was being relieved by reason of the Williamson crevasse. It is a break and occurred in a peculiar way. Hinchie Rice, in charge, was called upon to doctor a seep hole, 30 feet back of the levee, where a large volume of water was issuing. Men and sacks happened to be available and sack after sack went into the hole until the flow was stanchioned. Suddenly, at the base of the levee, 30 feet away, a big gripper made its appearance. Levee sacks, earth, etc., went into the air and the long beleaguered levee was rent apart.
The crevasse is now 200 feet wide and widening with each hour.

Mayor Purvis is going on the Titan with men and materials to try to save the big Long lake levee, which will be eaten into by morning if something is not done to save it. The current through the Williamson crevasse strikes
the base of the Long lake levee on the inside at an angle and is gradually being it down. As this levee cost an immense sum, desperate efforts will be made to save it. The Hubbard break is four miles south of the Williamson crevasse and five miles north of the Westover crevasse. It simply adds to the volume of water which is devastating

all the old town island and old town ridge country.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Professor William L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, has issued this special river bulletin:

Following reports have been received from the department of agriculture weather bureau officials in charge of river districts:

St. Louis.—Less rain has fallen than anticipated and rise will be slower.
More water will come out of the Missouri river by Tuesday.

Cairo, Ills.—River has risen one-tenth of a foot since Saturday morning; it is now on a stand at 50.4. Seep water, increased by heavy rains, is in some few places upon the sidewalks of graded streets.

Memphis.—The flood situation shows no improvement, and in the vicinity of Helena it is hourly becoming more critical. Owing to heavy rains in this section the river at Memphis shows a slight rise, but no marked change is expected
at present.

Helena, Ark.—River 51.85 feet; rainfall 89 hundredths of an inch. Levee broke four miles below town and will flood the city. Damage in the country will be great but in the city slight.

Vicksburg, Miss.—Crevasse reported at Flower Lake, Miss., six miles below Austria, Tunica county.

New Orleans.—River rising, 17.5 feet.
This is within one-tenth of a foot of the highest water ever previously recorded.

Heavy rains have occurred in the past 24 hours in the water sheds of the Arkansas, Cumberland and Tennessee and along the central Mississippi river;
heavy rains or snows in the upper Missouri and light rains in the upper and lower Mississippi and the Ohio rivers.
The Mississippi river has risen from St. Paul to the mouth, except a fall of one tenth at Keokuk, St. Louis and Vicksburg. It is above the danger line at St. Paul and La Crosse.

FLOODS IN THE NORTHWEST.

The Missouri Above the Danger Line at St. Louis City.

OMAHA, April 5.—Special telegrams
from points in South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska bring word of increased floods in all the rivers. Rain has fallen almost incessantly for the last 72 hours over an area of more than 100 miles in radius from Omaha, the fall being fully four inches for that time. This has greatly increased the volume of water in the already swollen streams, and now what are usually brooks have been transformed into torrents. Thousands of acres of farm land are under from 4 to 6 feet of running water, and many families have moved from homes in boats. Along the James river, in South Dakota, a great many farmers had gone back to their home when the water receded early last week and are now caught in this flood.

A Missouri river steamer has been sent from Yankton to rescue the sufferers along the James river. Sioux City reports that the Missouri has passed the danger line there and is overflowing
the lower part of the city. Cherokee reports the second flood on the Little Sioux worse than the first. Repairs had commenced on the property damaged by the first deluge, but all is being washed away again.

TRENTON, Mo., April 5.—Grand river is still coming up and the bottoms are completely under water, causing much damage. Welton bridge, four miles north, was washed out, and considerable timber on the Quincy, Omaha and Kansas City railway extension has been lost. Manager Winslow of the water works received a telephone message from the power station that water was running in through the walls, and that if the flood gets higher they would have to vacate, leaving the city without any water supply. Six young men on horseback attempted to cross the bottoms west of town and were swept from their horses. Three got safely to land. The other three floated down stream and were rescued from the treacherous spot.

YANKTON, S. D., April 5.—Four inches of rain has fallen during the last week and is still falling. Jim river, the longest unnavigable river in the world, is now on a rampage, covering the bottom lands from bluff to bluff and threatening to wash away the Great Northern, Northwestern and Milwaukee railroad bridges which cross the stream at this point. Over three miles of track and cars have washed out, but farther placing Yankton without railroad facilities. The river is still rising rapidly, promising general destruction
throughout the Jim river valley.
Farmers as a rule have vacated their homes and farms, and those still remaining are now being moved by boats.
It is thought that the worst of the flood is yet to come.

WATCHING THE BILL.

Foreign Legations Keep Their Governments Informed on the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The foreign embassies and legations in Washington are watching the progress of the tariff bill with great care, as it materially affects all commercial nations. Reports are being forwarded to the various foreign offices, and these in turn are being made public abroad for the information of concerns shipping goods to the United States. Naturally the feeling among the diplomats is not favorable to the measure, as it will restrict many of the lines of foreign trade with this country.

Among the representatives of the larger countries the expression is general that there will be a large decrease in imports, and that this in turn will be followed by an increase of duties against American goods. The representatives of nations which are most concerned with reciprocity do not regard the reciprocity features of the present bill with favor.

Up to the present time no protests
have been filed from any source, although it is said certain representations from the Argentine government are on the way to the minister here. Some of the ministers have talked unofficially with Secretary Sherman as to the general character of the bill, but they have become satisfied that the executive branch had no desire to exert influence on the legislative branch toward keeping down tariff rates.

Wants Big Damages.

WARREN, O., April 5.—Mrs. Louise Watkins of Niles has sued the Pittsburg and Western Railway company for $15,000, alleging permanent injuries from being put off a train at Youngstown.

BUSINESS OF CONGRESS.

The Senate to Take up the Bankruptcy Bill.

WILL PRESS THE DINGLEY BILL.

The Finance Committee Hard at Work on That Measure—The Appropriation Bills to Be Taken Up—House Likely to Do Little Business.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The bankruptcy bill was given first place in the senate program this week, but it will give way to the appropriation bills after tomorrow if the committee on appropriations reports them as is expected and urges consideration.

Senator Lindsay will open the debate on the bankruptcy bill in its favor, and it is presumed that Senator Nelson will follow in opposition.

The appropriation bills will excite more or less debate when taken up, but they are scheduled to pass with comparatively few changes. There has been an effort on the part of some members of the house to impress the senate with the importance of passing these bills as sent over from the house without any change whatever. This suggestion is resented, especially by the appropriations committee, which is determined to make some changes if only for the purpose of demonstrating the senate's independence of the house. A few modifications, however, are absolutely necessary. It appears that there is an error of $100,000 in the calculation of totals in the sundry civil bill and that one appropriation for a public building is duplicated. The committee also will restore the provision for opening the Uncompagned Indian reservation in the Indian bill, but will allow only one claim of gasoline to each individual and not two as has been heretofore reported.

The Uncompagned matter and the question of revoking President Cleveland's order for the creation of forest reservations in the west will occasion debate. The committee probably will make no recommendation in this matter, though there is a possibility that it may be transferred from the sundry civil to the general deficiency bill. The senators from the state affected will make an effort on the floor of the senate to have the provision in regard to this matter restored as it originally passed the senate.

The outlook is that the week will not be a busy one, and that the daily sessions will be short. Many senators will be absent. The finance committee will press forward its investigation of the Dingley tariff bill, and the various parties will continue their efforts to reach an understanding on the organization of the senate committee. Some attention may be given to the arbitration treaty in executive session, but there will not be any effort to get a vote upon it during the week. Senator Elkins will speak Monday on his bill for discriminative duties on goods carried in American vessels.

LITTLE BUSINESS LIKELY.

The House May Not Be In Session Nearly All Week.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The house in pursuance of the waiting policy mapped out by the leaders has adjourned until Wednesday, and on that day will immediately adjourn for three days, the constitutional adjournment without the consent of the senate. Many of the members have gone home subject to call in the event they should be needed.
In case the president should decide to ask congress for special legislation for the relief of the Mississippi flood sufferers, as it is anticipated, he may, the proceedings on Wednesday may be more interesting.

Any legislation which may be proposed in the present situation would be blocked by a single objection and while it is not likely that there would be captious position to a bill which would appeal so directly to the sympathy of congress in objection might be expected.
This would necessitate a special order from the committee on rules for its consideration and all the attendant complications.

SATISFACTORY TO HANNA.

He Expresses His Opinion on the Dingley Tariff Measure.

CLEVELAND, April 5. — Senator
Hanna, who came home to vote, said that he regarded the Dingley bill as a satisfactory measure, going far enough in the direction of protection and providing sufficient revenue. The passage of that bill he believed to be the pressing need of the hour. Senator Hanna expressed the opinion that the arbitration treaty would be approved by the senate by a close vote.

When asked if he thought congressional action on the Cuban question probable at this session, Mr. Hanna replied:
"I don't know. You can't tell about that. A spark might drop in there at any time and precipitate action. At this time, however, I consider congressional action on the Cuban question improbable."

Mr. Hanna started on his return to Washington after he voted.

Workmen Demand Shorter Hours.

CLEVELAND, April 5.—Five thousand union workmen connected with the building trades made a demand for an eight-hour day coupled with a demand that only men having union cards shall hereafter be employed. The business agent of the building trades council says he does not anticipate much opposition on the part of the contractors to granting the shorter work day, but it is expected that objection will be raised to granting the demand with respect to the non-employment of men not members of the unions.

Not to Have an Ambassador.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The state department has received notice from the Turkish government that it finds it inconvenient to raise the grade of its mission in Washington to that of an embassy on account of the increased expense which would thereby be incurred.
This decision will prevent the president
from nominating ex-Secretary John W.
Foster as an ambassador to Constantinople
as it is understood was his desire.

THE tobacco-trust has gone to join the joint traffic association, and there will be others.

DID you do your duty today and vote for a man who knows how to handle public business?

UNLESS all signs fall the Democrats of Ohio will learn today that the Republican victory last fall was for more than a minute.

THE country roads are not as bad as usual this spring, but nature, and not the county commissioners, can be blamed for their excellent condition.

SECRETARY SHERMAN has th rheumatism, but it will be noticed that however much he may be stiffened it has not crippled his foreign policy.

THE last month of the Wilson bill produced a surplus, but it was necessary that a Republican president be in office to restore the confidence required to bring it about.

THE sentiment is spreading through Ohio that Mr. Bryan will confer a favor on Mr. Hanna if he carries out his present intention of making a speechifying tour through the state next fall.

If you have not voted hasten to the polling place of your ward and cast a ballot for the jail. It will be a vote in the cause of humanity, a vote to place Columbian county on the right side of the book.

SOME of our newspaper friends down the river cannot agree upon the name of the man who was responsible for the capture of Morgan, the raider. They waste time. To no one man can that achievement be credited.

THE proposition of Representative Corliss, of Michigan, to revoke all orders of President Cleveland extending the application of civil service laws will find ardent supporters in hard working Republicans, who are opposed to making this a government of Democratic office holders.

STOCK ARGUMENTS.

Forgetting that their stock arguments were met and conquered in the house, those Democrats who are in the business of fighting the Dingley bill for the effect it will have upon their constituents are preparing to reproduce that mass of rot in the senate. All this is without reason. The tariff bill will eventually pass. What can possibly be gained by delay? The country demands a cessation of continued tariff agitation. It would have the protective principle, as embodied in the Dingley bill, placed upon the statutes and allowed to remain. There is nothing to be gained by a long fight except disturbed conditions for whose existence there is no excuse.

FOREST FIRES RAGING.

Much Damage Being Done to Timber Lands in Pennsylvania.

BELLEFOONTE, Pa., April 5.—The forest fires in the surrounding mountains are spreading at an alarming rate. All efforts to check the flames have proven futile and unless a heavy rain sets in many thousands of acres of valuable timber will go up in smoke. The fire originated in the middle section of the Nittany mountains from a spark from a locomotive falling on a tract of dry grass. Heavy winds have prevailed for almost 40 hours and the flames are sweeping fiercely along the mountains from top to bottom. The approach of the fire to the lumber camps has caused great excitement and the woodsmen have left their workings.

The course of the flames is constantly changing, making back firing useless. Different crews have been sent out to fight the fires, but thus far they have accomplished little and their efforts are now being directed to confining the fire to the mountains and to protect property in the clearings. The worst damage has been done in the timber lands several miles north of Milesburg. Another fire has broken out in the Seven Mountains, near here, and is burning fiercely. This blaze is in the heart of the hemlock district, and is doing much damage. Residents along the base of the mountain are praying for rain, which is the only thing that can now stop the course of the flames.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., April 5.—The fires that have been raging in the Pocono and Blue Ridge mountains have thus far done considerable damage to timber and railroad ties. The farmers are ready to protect their homes in case of the spread of the flames, but there appears to be no immediate danger of this. The weather continues dry and anxiety is felt lest it should continue so.

AN ALLEGED FILIBUSTER WANTED.

It Is Said He Has Just Returned to This Country From Cuba.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The United States authorities here have information that Colonel Emilio Nunez, who is wanted for organizing and taking part in a dozen or more filibustering expeditions, has within the past few days returned to this country from Cuba. It is also hinted that Nunez is hiding hereabouts, having come to New York with Dr. Joaquin D. Castillo, who after forfeiting his bond surrendered himself last week and was allowed to give new bail for trial. Colonel Emilio Nunez distinguished himself as a daring cavalry leader during the ten years war, and was hated by the Spaniards, who would like to see him in prison.

It is said that since the breaking out of the present struggle for independence, under orders from General Calixto Garcia and Carlos Roloff, Nunez has been engaged in organizing and sending men, arms and ammunition to Cuba. He was tried here last winter for breaking the neutrality laws in connection with one of the Bermuda expeditions, but the jury disagreed.

A Flouring Mill Burned.

HONESDALE, Pa., April 5.—The flouring mill of Kuhnach & Seaman has been destroyed by fire, together with 5,000 bushels of corn and all the other stock. The loss is estimated at $15,000; insurance, $8,000. The large general store of J. S. O'Connor, together with the stock, dwelling and barns located at White Mills, has also been destroyed by fire. The loss is about $20,000; partly insured. The origin of the fire is not known. The hardest kind of work was necessary to save the large glass works of Dorfing & Sons and the surrounding dwellings from destruction.

A Physician Commits Suicide.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Dr. J. H. Walton, 30 years old, a well known physician of Duquene, Ia., committed suicide in Lincoln park this afternoon by cutting his throat with a razor. The act was done before the eyes of hundreds of people along the lake shore drive, and while the doctor was walking with one of his most intimate friends, Dr. S. S. Lindsay, also of Duquene. He is believed to have been temporarily insane as the result of a recent illness.

On Trial For Murder.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 5.—The preliminary trial of Annie Light and Malissa and Virgie Nudly, charged with murdering Myrtle Eggleston, a cousin of Mrs. Light, began here today with ex-Governor Wilson appearing for the defense. Virgie Nudly, one of the accused, is only 15 years old. Owing to the atrocity of the crime the case will attract much attention.

Another Suit Against a Trust.

COLUMBUS, April 5.—Attorney General Monnet has brought another suit in the supreme court to break in upon the fire insurance trust. The defendant in this case is the Manchester Fire Insurance company of Manchester, England.

A Nation of Medicine Takers.

It is an accepted fact that the American people are the greatest users of medicines of one sort or another on the face of the earth. Imaginary ills make up a large part of man's earthly troubles. Some people need only to read the vivid description of some chronic disease, and they are at once victims to the complaint in question. Many patent medicine venders make use of this peculiarity and lead some people to believe that their tired feeling comes from their blood not being rich and red. Millions would be saved and our general health would be better if we would take medicine only when really needed and then get a remedy specially prepared for the disease with which we are suffering.

As an illustration, when you have sore throat, there can't be any imagination about it. Your throat hurts; probably is covered with white ulcers, and you know you need a remedy. Use good judgment. Get a cure put up for this one purpose. There is such a remedy. Tonsilline is its name, and it is a wonder in its field. Being put up for this one class of diseases, it cures quickly, surely, and many times as if by magic. No family can afford to be without Tonsilline in the home, as it is a certain cure for Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Croup and Quinsy. Ask your neighbors who have used it. All druggists sell Tonsilline, 25 and 50 cents.

SEVERAL MORE BREAKS.

The Levee Gives Way and Floods Many Towns.

FEARS OF A STILL FURTHER RISE.

Funds and Provisions Becoming Scarce and the Condition of the Refugees Critical—Relief Steamers Return With Many People on Board.

MEMPHIS, April 5.—Another disastrous break in the Mississippi levee has occurred at Flower Lake, six miles below Tunica, Miss. The crevasse, while not yet of great width, is fully 15 feet deep and the water is pouring through the opening with fearful velocity. This will probably be the most destructive break that has occurred in the delta. The most fertile farm lands of Mississippi, lying in Coahoma, Leflore, Quitman and Tallahatchie counties, in the northern part of the state, will be inundated and the newly planted corn crops will be laid in waste.

Fortunately no loss of life is reported, the inhabitants of this stricken section having made preparations for just such a catastrophe as exists there. The condition of the poorer classes throughout the flooded area is indeed critical. Thousands of refugees are being huddled on levees and spots of land waiting for relief.

The towns of Rosedale and Tunica report that everything possible is being done for the poor people, but that funds and provisions are fast becoming exhausted. In the little city of Rosedale alone 1,200 refugees are being cared for by the citizens. Half a hundred towns stand in six feet of water and the yellow stream is creeping up slowly but surely.

Advices just received tell of a break in the levee two miles south of Helena, Ark. This is the levee for which the people of Southeastern Arkansas have made such a desperate fight. The waters from this break will flood a great area and in all probability will back up into the streets of Helena.

The relief steamer Ora Lee has arrived at Marianna, Ark., having made an expedition up the St. Francis river. There were on board 100 refugees and 200 head of cattle. The steamer went up the St. Francis river as far as Clark off, and then worked her way down stream, rescuing people from perilous positions. The suffering along the St. Francis river is appalling. The water throughout the entire neighboring country is from 6 to 15 feet deep. The relief boat had on board the body of Mrs. McMain of Ragazzo City. The body was found at Ragazzo and it was taken to Marianna for burial, there being no land at the former place on which to give it interment.

TUNICA, Miss., April 5.—The Flower lake levee where it crosses Yellow bayou gave way under the tremendous pressure of water. The crevasse widened rapidly and is now 130 yards wide, through which the water is rushing with a deafening sound that only can be compared to that of the Niagara Falls. The levee was 30 feet high at the point where it broke. The people not only on the farms near the break, but upon those some distance from the levee back of it, have lost large numbers of cattle. So rapidly did the crevasse widen that the water rushing through it was sufficient to reach the lake parallel to the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad at Bashby station, which is five miles from the break, in a remarkably short space of time and within an hour had raised the lake eight feet.

The relief steamer Titan, owned by the government, went back to the Williamson's store just below the break and brought up 92 souls from that and adjoining plantations, all of whom were taken in charge by Chairman Lindsay of the relief committee. They will be entered in the colored Knights of Pythias hall tonight and tomorrow they will swell the population of camp Black. They were fed by the committee as they had no time to save anything. One man who lived immediately in front of the break, William Beasley, got his wife and six children to the levee by the hardest work, but the only piece of property they brought from their cabin was a soldier bed tick filled with straw. The people brought here were those immediately behind the levees. Others further back had already gone to the hills. Tents had been reserved for them in anticipation of a big break at Hubbards or Fitzhughs, but the negroes had no idea that any levee watched over by Ed Pillow would ever give way. In the city the excitement is intense. Every foot of the river is crowded with back immediately into the town and there was great activity in moving household goods, especially in "jacking up" pianos. There were many consultations as to whether the water should be permitted to back into the city or an effort be made to keep it out. In the southern end of the city the Arkansas Midland railroad's dump for a few hundred feet with a single opening in it, a culvert 20 feet wide, left open to carry off the surface drainage of the city and this has been closed. Helena will be a dry town despite adverse circumstances, unless the drainage pumps should prove inadequate.

Another break has occurred. It was at the Hubbard front, just below the Fitzhugh place, just as the pressure was being relieved by raising the Williamson crevasse. It is a break and occurred in a peculiar way. Hinchie Rice, in charge, was called upon to doctor a seep hole, 30 feet back of the levee, where a large volume of water was issuing. Men and sacks happened into the hole until the flow was stanching. Suddenly, at the base of the levee, 30 feet away, a big griser made its appearance. Levee sacks, earth, etc., went into the air and the long beleaguered levee was rent apart. The crevasse is now 200 feet wide and widening with each hour.

Mayor Purvis is going on the Titan with men and materials to try to save the big Long lake levee, which will be eaten into by morning if something is not done to save it. The current through the Williamson crevasse strikes the base of the Long lake levee on the inside at an angle and is gradually beating it down. As this levee cost an immense sum, desperate efforts will be made to save it. The Hubbard break is four miles south of the Williamson crevasse and five miles north of the West-ov crevasse. It simply adds to the volume of water which is devastating all the old town island and old town ridge country.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Professor Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, has issued this special river bulletin:

Following reports have been received from the department of agriculture weather bureau officials in charge of river districts:

St. Louis.—Less rain has fallen than anticipated and rise will be slower. More water will come out of the Missouri river by Tuesday.

Cairo, Ills.—River has risen one-tenth of a foot since Saturday morning; it is now on a stand at 50.4. Seep water, increased by heavy rains, is in some few places upon the sidewalks of graded streets.

Memphis.—The flood situation shows no improvement, and in the vicinity of Helena it is hourly becoming more critical. Owing to heavy rains in this section the river at Memphis shows a slight rise, but no marked change is expected at present.

Helena, Ark.—River 51.85 feet; rainfall 89 hundredths of an inch. Levee broke four miles below town and will flood the city. Damage in the country will be great but in the city is slight.

Vicksburg, Miss.—Crevasse reported at Flower Lake, Miss., six miles below Austin, Tunica county.

New Orleans.—River rising, 17.8 feet. This is within one-tenth of a foot of the highest water ever previously recorded.

Heavy rains have occurred in the past 24 hours in the water sheds of the Arkansas, Cumberland and Tennessee and along the central Mississippi river; heavy rains or snows in the upper Missouri and light rains in the upper and lower Mississippi and the Ohio rivers. The Mississippi river has risen from St. Paul to the mouth, except a fall of one tenth at Keokuk, St. Louis and Vicksburg. It is above the danger line at St. Paul and La Crosse.

FLOODS IN THE NORTHWEST.

The Missouri Above the Danger Line at Sioux City.

OMAHA, April 5.—Special telegrams from points in South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska bring word of increased floods in all the rivers. Rain has fallen almost incessantly for the last 72 hours over an area of more than 100 miles in radius from Omaha, the fall being fully four inches for that time. This has greatly increased the volume of water in the already swollen streams, and now what are usually brooks have been transformed into torrents. Thousands of acres of farm land are under from 4 to 6 feet of running water, and many families have moved from homes in boats. Along the James river, in South Dakota, a great many farmers had gone back to their home when the water receded early last week and are now caught in the flood.

A Missouri river steamboat has been sent from Yankton to rescue the sufferers along the James river. Sioux City reports that the Missouri has passed the danger line there and is overflowing the lower part of the city. Cherokee reports the second flood on the Little Sioux worse than the first. Repairs had commenced on the property damaged by the first deluge, but all is being washed away again.

TRENTON, Mo., April 5.—Grand river is still coming up and the bottoms are completely under water, causing much damage. Wolfen bridge, four miles north, was washed out, and a considerable timber of the Quincy, Omaha and Kansas City railway extension has been lost. Manager Winslow of the water works received a telephone message from the power station that water was running in through the walls, and that if the flood gets higher they would have to vacate, leaving the city without any water supply. Six young men on horseback attempted to cross the bottom west of town and were swept from their horses. Three got safely to land. The other three floated down stream and were rescued from the tree tops.

YANKTON, S. D., April 5.—Four inches of rain has fallen during the last week and is still falling. Jim river, the longest unnavigable river in the world, is now on a rampage, covering the bottom lands from bluff and threatening to wash away the (Great Northern, Northwestern and Milwaukee railroad bridges, which cross the stream at this point. Over three miles of track of each road has washed out so far, thus placing Yankton without railroad facilities. The river is still rising rapidly, promising general destruction throughout the Jim river valley. Farmers as a rule have vacated their homes and farms, and those still remaining are now being moved by boats. It is thought that the worst of the flood is yet to come.

WATCHING THE BILL.

Foreign Legations Keep Their Governments Informed on the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The foreign embassies and legations in Washington are watching the progress of the tariff bill with great care, as it materially affects all commercial nations. Reports are being forwarded to the various foreign offices, and these in turn are being made public abroad for the information of concerns shipping goods to the United States. Naturally the feeling among the diplomats is not favorable to the measure, as it will restrict many of the lines of foreign trade with this country.

Among the representatives of the larger countries the expression is given that there will be a large decrease in imports, and that this in turn will be followed by an increase of duties against American goods. The representatives of nations which are most concerned with reciprocity do not regard the reciprocity features of the present bill with favor.

Up to the present time no protests have been received from any source, although it is said certain representations from the Argentine government are on the way to the minister here. Some of the ministers have talked unofficially with Secretary Sherman as to the general character of the bill, but they have become satisfied that the executive branch had no desire to exert influence on the legislative branch toward keeping down tariff rates.

WANTS BIG DAMAGES.

WARREN, O., April 5.—Mrs. Louise Watkins of Niles has sued the Pittsburg and Western Railroad company for $15,000, alleging permanent injuries from being put off a train at Youngstown.

BUSINESS OF CONGRESS.

The Senate to Take up the Bankruptcy Bill.

WILL PRESS THE DINGLEY BILL.

The Finance Committee Hard at Work on That Measure—The Appropriation Bills to Be Taken Up—House Likely to Do Little Business.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The bankruptcy bill was given first place in the senate program this week, but it will give way to the appropriation bills after tomorrow if the committee on appropriations reports them as is expected and urges consideration.

Senator Lindsay will open the debate on the bankruptcy bill in its favor, and it is presumed that Senator Nelson will follow in opposition.

The appropriation bills will excite more or less debate when taken up, but they are scheduled to pass with comparatively few changes. There has been an effort on the part of some members of the house to impress the senate with the importance of passing these bills as sent over from the house without any change whatever. This suggestion is resented, especially by the appropriations committee, which is determined to make some changes if only for the purpose of demonstrating the senate's independence of the house. A few modifications, however, are absolutely necessary. It appears that there is an error of $100,000 in the calculation of totals in the sundry civil bill and that one appropriation for a public building is duplicated. The committee also will restore the provision for opening the Uncompahgre Indian reservation in the Indian bill, but will allow only one claim of gasoline to such individual and not two as has been heretofore reported.

The Uncompahgre matter and the question of revoking President Cleveland's order for the creation of forest reservations in the west will occasion debate. The committee probably will make no recommendation in this matter, though there is a possibility that it may be transferred from the sundry civil to the general deficiency bill. The senators from the state affected will make an effort on the floor of the senate to have the provision in regard to this matter restored as it originally passed the senate.

The outlook is that the week will not be a busy one, and that the daily sessions will be short. Many senators will be absent. The finance committee will press forward its investigation of the Dingley tariff bill, and the various parties will continue their efforts to reach an understanding on the organization of the senate committee. Some attention may be given to the arbitration treaty in executive session, but there will not be any effort to get a vote upon it during the week. Senator Elkins will speak Monday on his bill for discriminative duties on goods carried in American vessels.

LITTLE BUSINESS LIKELY.

The House May Not Be in Session Nearly All Week.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The house in pursuance of the waiting policy mapped out by the leaders has adjourned until Wednesday, and on that day will immediately adjourn for three days, the constitutional adjournment without the consent of the senate. Many of the members have gone home subject to call in the event they should be needed. In case the president should decide to ask congress for special legislation for the relief of the Mississippi flood sufferers, as it is anticipated, he may, the proceedings on Wednesday may be more interesting.

Any legislation which may be proposed in the present session would be blocked by a single objection and while it is not likely that there would be capricious position to a bill which would appeal so directly to the sympathy of congress an objection might be made. This would necessitate a special order from the committee on rules for its consideration and all the attendant complications.

SATISFACTORY TO HANNA.

He Expresses His Opinion on the Dingley Tariff Measure.

CLEVELAND, April 5.—Senator Hanna, who came home to vote, said that he regarded the Dingley bill as a satisfactory measure, going far enough in the direction of protection and providing sufficient revenue. The passage of that bill he believed to be the pressing need of the hour. Senator Hanna expressed the opinion that the arbitration treaty would be approved by the senate by a close vote.

When asked if he thought congressional action on the Cuban question probable at this session, Mr. Hanna replied: "I don't know. You can't tell about that. A spark might drop in there at any time and precipitate action. At this time, however, I consider congressional action on the Cuban question improbable."

Mr. Hanna started on his return to Washington after he voted.

Workmen Demand Shorter Hours.

CLEVELAND, April 5.—Five thousand union workmen connected with the building trades made a demand for an eight-hour day coupled with a demand that only men having union cards shall hereafter be employed. The business agent of the building trades council says he does not anticipate much opposition on the part of the contractors to granting the shorter work day, but it is expected that objection will be raised to granting the demand with respect to the non-employment of men not members of the unions.

Not to Have an Ambassador.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The state department has received notice from the Turkish government that it finds it inconvenient to raise the grade of its mission in Washington to that of an embassy on account of the increased expense which would thereby be incurred. This decision will prevent the president from nominating ex-Secretary John W. Foster as an assessor to Constantinople, as it is understood was his desire.

CANEA, April 5.—The actual work of disarming the Bashi Bazouks has begun. At the village of Kalliani they refused to deliver up their arms and demanded an order from the governor of the island and the personal presence of the Pasha. The foreign troops then entered the village, and the Austrian general who is in command ordered that search for arms should begin when the Pasha arrived. Then the corps closed around the Bashi Bazouks, and yielded quietly.

In spite of the orders of the admirals, the Turkish authorities refuse to release the Greeks who were captured at Kalliani.

The European troops guard the gates of the town. The Arab quarter also is surrounded by European pickets. A proclamation has been issued announcing that all who refuse to yield up their arms will be shot. In response to this 100 have as yet surrendered their arms.

The insurgents have succeeded in exchanging heavy dynamite cartridges upon the walls of the fort at Kissamo.

Rome, April 5.—A dispatch from Sudan states that the powers have ordered the withdrawal of the international fleet to be a pacific blockade of Athens, and it is understood at Sudan that the admirals are now considering the best way of carrying out the instructions.

London, April 5.—The Times Athens correspondent says:

The Crux of the situation is the presence of Colonel Vassos and his army in Crete. The powers insist on withdrawal, but neither King George nor the government cares to comply. It is believed, however, that the difficulty may be surmounted in the following way:

The first step would be the withdrawal of the Turkish forces from Crete. This would not only remove the cause of the Cretans' but would make it possible for Colonel Vassos and his army to return from Crete with a certain amount of prestige. The prior agreement of the Turkish army would be less offensive to the sultan's amour propre than the simultaneous withdrawal of both armies, inasmuch as he has entrusted Crete to the powers and an arrangement to be reached would be one concerning him and them exclusively.

The order for the recall of the Greek army from the frontier would immediately follow. Greece having thus abandoned her contentious attitude, the powers might entrust her with a mandate to occupy Crete in the name of the sultan, as when Austria received a mandate from Europe to occupy Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Thus legally empowered, Greece could send another army under another commander to Crete to occupy the interior of the island, while the international occupation of the seaports might continue until measures had been taken to the satisfaction of the powers.

At first the insurgents had the advantage, driving the Moslem irregulars down the hill, but the latter rallied and after a fierce charge drove the Christians backward from their most advanced points, where they planted a flag, which is still floating.

The fighting was stopped by a heavy rainfall. When the Moslems returned to Canea the order had been to disarm them. At first they resisted, but soon those who were disarmed warned their comrades outside, so that many of them had their arms. Seven hundred rifles will remain to be collected.

The disarming of the Moslem irregulars ought to have been done long ago, but the Moslems were beginning to think that Europe had sent the European force simply to support them against the Christians. The only reasonable thing is that the men-of-war did not shell the Moslems when they attacked the Christians, just as they have been shelling the insurgents.

Shot and Killed His Brother.

BATON, O., April 5.—Harry Wilcox, aged 14 years, and living at Clover Creek schoolhouse, shot and killed his little brother Thomas, aged 9 years.

Harry had found a revolver of his father's in the house and went out to the barn, put up a tin can and proceeded to shoot. It happened that Thomas was playing inside of the barn, and the ball passed through the board and struck him in the right eye.

Sailor Ramsay Released.

Lima, Peru, April 5.—Ramsay, the American sailor, who was arrested in the early part of the year at Callao on the charge of disorderly conduct, confined and subsequently sentenced to a year's imprisonment without such legal trial as is provided for in the treaty between Peru and the United States, has been released.

A Suit For $50,000 Damages.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Mrs. John Peck, wife of a prominent brickmaker of Haverstraw, has entered suit against Mrs. James Scott, a wealthy widow of that place, whose husband was a brick manufacturer, for $50,000 for the alienation of her husband's affections. Mrs. Scott denies all the charges.

CAPTURED A TUG.

Claimed She Was to Aid the Bermuda In a Cuban Expedition.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 5.—The cruiser Vesuvius has prevented a Cuban expedition from leaving Fernandina and captured the tug Alexander Jones of Wilmington, N. C. The cruiser left here suddenly upon information furnished by Spanish Vice-Consul Potous that an expedition would leave Fernandina. The cruiser went down the river and anchored off Fernandina bar. A tug with only two lights burning at the masthead was seen to approach and the flashlight of the Vesuvius was thrown upon her. The tug proved to be the Alexander Jones and the captain gave an excuse for his presence that he was waiting for tows. An officer from the Vesuvius was placed aboard and then the cruiser went out to sea in search of the Bermuda which was expected.

A steamer was finally seen coming from the south having the same signals displayed as those of the Jones. The flashlight was again used, at which the steamer turned and started in another direction. A signal from the Vesuvius brought the steamer to a standstill, however, and she was seen to be the Bermuda. The Bermuda was outside the three-mile limit and under the British flag, so that the commander of the Vesuvius had no authority to detain her. The Bermuda apparently had no cargo on board, standing very high out of the water. The Jones was escorted into port of Fernandina and turned over to Collector of Customs Baltzell, who put a deputy aboard. The tug will probably be fined for a violation of a navigation law in having only two lights displayed.

The plans of the Cubans were for General Sanguilly to leave this city with a party of Cubans for Fernandina. A small tug was then to tow two lighters, loaded with arms, ammunition and the men, out to the bar, where they were to be met by the tug Jones, with coal and provisions aboard, and everything was to be transferred to the Bermuda. The quick action of the Vesuvius prevented their plans from being carried out.

A FIRE IN CINCINNATI.

The Loss to Buildings and Stock Will Reach $400,000.

CINCINNATI, April 5.—An automatic fire alarm notified the central fire tower of a blaze starting in the Georg F. Otte company's carpet store on the south side of Fourth street, one door west of Race street. The entire fire department was called out and a battle royal began. Otte's entire stock, valued at $300,000 and insured for $150,000, was destroyed in less than two hours. The entire interior of the Otte building was burned out and the rear wall fell into Baker alley.

The fire communicated to the roof of Henry Rosenbaum's cloak manufacturing establishment at the corner of Race and Fourth streets. It was confined to the top story, however, and otherwise Rosenbaum's damage is wholly by water, fully insured. The Maeder furniture warehouses adjoined Otte, a great tailoring establishment was separated from Otte by an alley and across the street from Rosenbaum's was the St. Nicholas hotel. None were injured.

The total loss to buildings and stock will be $400,000. The buildings belong to the Eckstein estate and are fully insured.

AN INSANE MAN'S DEED.

He Wounds Three Women and Is Then Shot Himself.

KINCAID, Kan., April 5.—George Miller, who was recently released from an insane asylum, shot three women neighbors and was himself dangerously wounded while resisting arrest. The injured women are: Mrs. W. H. Burkey, shot in breast, probably fatally; Miss Effie Kirby, shot in back, will die; Miss Jennie Kirby, shot in side, will recover.

Miller had called to see the Kirby sisters at the Burkey house and, being refused admission to the house, broke through the door and shot down the three women as they attempted to escape. He then chased several children through the streets and hunted up a physician to attend the wounded women. When officers attempted to arrest him the crazed man opened fire, but was finally brought down with a load from a shotgun. He may die from the wound.

SIXTY-FIVE FAMILIES WASHED OUT.

Boats Plying In the Principal Streets of Middlesboro, Ky.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., April 5.—Middlesboro is again flooded. The water is four inches higher than in the flood five weeks ago. Most of the stores in Cumberland avenue are flooded. Sixty-five families have been washed out.

Three hundred people are fed by the city. Boats are plying on the principal streets. At Pineville the Cumberland river is rising three feet per hour. West Pineville is under water. Clinch and Powell rivers are flooding the entire country.

Rear Admiral Ramsay Retired.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Rear Admiral Francis M. Ramsay, holding the most important office in the naval service, that of chief of the bureau of navigation, has been retired on account of age. He was born just 62 years ago in Washington, coming from military stock, his father having been a general in the United States army. He was a graduate of the naval academy and his first sea service was on the frigate St. Lawrence in 1856.

Drowned by Capsizing of a Skiff.

BUFFALO, April 5.—A sailing skiff capsized in the Niagara river, and Thomas Dowd, aged 23, and Edward Bowling, 39 years old, were drowned. James O'Hare, the third occupant of the boat, was rescued. The men had been on a fishing expedition, and when coming up the river the boat was capsized by a sudden gust of wind.

Refuses to Permit Reorganization.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Comptroller Eckels has refused to permit the proposed reorganization of the defunct Missouri National bank of Kansas City. The bank failed last fall owing $1,500,000. Those favoring reorganization had secured the signatures of 1,947 creditors, representing $901,550 of the bank's liabilities, while 638 creditors, representing $347,400 had refused to give their consent.

POWERS DISARM THEM.

They Take Arms From the Bashi Bazouks.

AFFECT PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT

The first step to be the withdrawal of the Turkish troops from Crete and then the recall of the Greeks from the frontier to follow.

BASE, April 5.—The actual work of disarming the Bashi Bazouks has been at the village of Kaliani they refused to deliver up their arms and demanded an order from the governor of the island and the personal presence of Pasha. The foreign troops then entered the village, and the Austrian general who is in command ordered that search for arms should begin when the Pasha arrived. Then the corps closed around the Bashi Bazouks, and yielded quietly.

In spite of the orders of the admirals, Turkish authorities refuse to release the Greeks who were captured at Miriri.

The European troops guard the gates of the town. The Arab quarter also is surrounded by European pickets. A statement has been issued announcing that all who refuse to yield up their arms will be shot. In response to this 100 have as yet surrendered their arms.

The insurgents have succeeded in exploding heavy dynamite cartridges upon the walls of the fort at Kissamo.

ROME, April 5.—A dispatch from Sudan that the powers have ordered the armaments of the international fleet to be a pacific blockade of Athens, and it understood at Sudan that the admirals are now considering the best way of trying out the instructions.

LONDON, April 5.—The Times Athens correspondent says:

Thus legally empowered, Greece could send another army under another commander to Crete to occupy the interior of the island, while the international occupation of the seaports might continue until measures had been taken for the repatriation, or possibly the partial emigration of the Mohammedan refugees. Eventually the Greek occupation would become general, the powers having in the meantime decided upon the form of the new constitution, and such guarantees as might be demanded by Europe for the protection of the Mohammedan minority which would be readily accorded to Greece.

LONDON, April 5.—The London Daily News gives the following account of the battle:

The Moslems advanced to within 200 yards of the Christians at Akrotiri and began to parley with the leaders. Then suddenly along both the Moslem and Christian lines an almost simultaneous discharge occurred. The range was very short and the rattle of the musketry developed into a regular roar.

At first the insurgents had the advantage, driving the Moslem irregulars down the hill, but the latter rallied and after a fierce charge drove the Christians backward from their most advanced points, where they planted a Turkish flag, which is still floating.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barnhardt, a son.

All the East End factories are now running full time.

A select dance will be given at Brant's tomorrow evening.

The baseball club will hold a business meeting this evening.

Mrs. Rebecca Searight is seriously ill at her home at Hookstown.

The street force are today repairing the board walks in Eighth street.

A number of new residences will be built in the East End this spring.

A water meter is being placed in the Young Men's Christian association.

The valuable home owned by John W. Wyman died Saturday evening.

Dr. L. O. Williams is again able to be out after an illness of several weeks.

The new decorating kiln at the Cartwright pottery was completed last week.

Mrs. A. V. Thompson is confined to her home threatened with pneumonia.

The East End pottery is working full time, and has a large number of orders.

The pressers at the Laughlin pottery are loading today because of lack of room.

Deputy Sheriff Supplee spent Sunday in the city. He was here merely on a pleasure trip.

The platform at the passenger station has been repaired and is now in first-class condition.

Palm Sunday will be celebrated at St. Aloysius church next Sabbath. A feature will be the music.

Miss H. M. Brookes, who has been confined to her home for some time with malaria, is still quite ill.

A lively row occurred at Jackson and Fifth streets at a late hour Saturday night. There were no arrests.

The motor on a west bound street car burned out last evening, and caused a general confusion of cars for a short time.

James Riley, of Pittsburg, spent Sunday in the city. His son is still very ill at the home of William Bolton, Jackson street.

A number of families have recently moved to East End, and empty houses are few and far between in that part of the city.

The measles in the East End is breaking out again. The small children of W. D. Irwin and R. S. Andrews are very ill.

Merchants had no cause for complaint on Saturday night. The streets were crowded, and everybody did a good business.

Bruce Kirby, of Akron, spent Sunday in the city. He says trade at the pottery in their city is very brisk, and they are rushed to fill orders.

"The 30th of May, Memorial day (or Decoration day as it is more frequently called)" is a brilliant effusion found in a local paper of last Saturday.

A slide on the Cumberland branch, opposite Wellsville, covered 35 feet of the track yesterday, and made it necessary to call out a large force of section men.

Mr. Hall, superintendent of construction of Wheeling, arrived in the city this morning, and the telephone force were put to work at once stringing the cable across the bridge.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Crowley died last evening at their home in Walker. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning, and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

Wm. R. Eakin and Miss Laura V. Duncan, both of Beaver county, Pa., were married in New Cumberland Saturday. The couple came to this city on the noon train and returned home in the evening.

A new brick floor will be placed in the round house at Wellsville next month. A number of other improvements will also be considered before the summer is over. The floor will be put down within a few weeks.

The Young Men's Christian association meeting yesterday afternoon was addressed by Rev. J. B. Salmon, of East End, who took for his text "And he preached unto him Jesus." The discourse was eloquent and logical, and many beautiful thoughts were conveyed to his listeners.

Winnie Mercer has gone into the coaching business, and a morning paper says: "Mercer was out to the Catholic university a few days ago teaching Tom Brown's pitching proteges on the university team a few tricks in the art of delivering the ball."

There was excitement in a Franklin street saloon Saturday afternoon. Jack Costelow was passing with his bulldog when it saw a large dog inside the saloon. The bulldog went through the door in a hurry, and a fight followed, while the occupants of the saloon made a hasty exit through the back door. The dogs were separated after they had succeeded in upsetting all the chairs and tables in the room.

TAKEN OFF THE DOCKET

Judge Smith Disposed of a Number of Cases.

MANY WERE FROM THIS PLACE

Litigants Either Settled Their Grievances or Failed to Push the Matter, and the Court Decided to Clear Them Off the Books—Grafton Iron Works Receiver.

Lisbon, April 5.—[Special].—Before the final adjournment of court a number of cases were disposed of by settlement or dismissal.

Dell Hedley against James Hedley, asking for divorce was dismissed. They were married in East Liverpool in 1890. Wilful absence brought the case into court.

Matt Hayes against Harrison Rinehart was an appeal from Squire Manley's court to recover for labor. It was dismissed.

Pittsburg Dispatch against Hartley Ellis was also dismissed. The paper wanted $472, a judgment having been rendered in Pittsburg.

The case of D. E. McNicol against Robert L. McKenty to compel the correction of an agreement and to recover $750 was settled. It was filed two years ago.

John Randolph against George Perkins, marshal of Salineville, was dismissed. He wanted $1,000 for alleged violation of office.

Frank Tullis against Ella W. Allison an appeal from the court of Squire Rose, to recover for rent, was dismissed.

Hannah Coy against Joseph Fallon, to recover $810 for housekeeping for the defendant was dismissed.

The case of Thos. C. Jenkins against Philo DeBee, was settled. Judgment for $46.40 was given in Squire Rose's court, and the action was taken up to marshal liens and claims against East Liverpool property.

The contempt proceedings filed last October against Thomas Mackey, of East Liverpool, for having disobeyed the court's orders in not paying alimony to his wife, was settled. Mackey was $56 in arrears.

M. H. Marietta against Joseph Hanum, was dismissed, but without prejudice.

G. Y. Travis has been appointed to succeed A. R. Mackall as guardian of E. E. Applegate, of Liverpool. The bond is $1,100.

The guardian of A. R. Mackall has returned to the court the return of the private sale of the personal property, which was dismissed.

The Salem Iron company, operating the Grafton furnace and rolling mill at Leetonia, were sued this morning by the Carbon Limestone company, asking four promissory notes aggregating $6,153.80; also to recover on an account for limestone $1,485.59. The notes were given in Pittsburg in 1896-97 to the Bessemer Limestone company who transferred them to the plaintiff, while the account was also made with the Bessemer company and assigned for a consideration. The defendants own valuable property in Leetonia, and it is claimed that during the past year they have placed incumbrances in large amounts upon it, and disposed of a large portion of it, with intent to defraud creditors. The chattel property alone, it is claimed, is mortgaged to McKelvey & Co., of Leetonia, for $103,541, largely in excess of its worth, and only done to place it beyond reach of creditors.

M. J. Childs was this morning appointed receiver on an application filed by Billingsley, Tayler & Clark. He assumed his duties at once.

The court has affirmed a report filed by W. W. Hole, as referee, in the case of the Golding & Sons company against the American Porcelain Manufacturing company. It has been pending for seven years, and according to the report a cash dividend of $1,278.98 will be distributed.

TOOK AWAY TROUSERS

Burglars Entered Hoskinson's Tailor Shop

IN THE GLARE OF ELECTRIC LIGHT

They Knew the Lock Was None of the Best, and Took Advantage of the Absence of a Policeman From That Part of Town.

Early yesterday morning thieves entered the tailor shop of S. Hoskinson, corner of Fourth and Market streets.

The lock on the front door was broken, and from all appearances the burglars did not have much trouble in entering the place.

When Mr. Hoskinson arrived yesterday morning the front door was standing open, and he knew at once something was wrong. Investigation developed that two pairs of trousers, a coat and a pair of shears had been stolen, while the remainder of the goods in the shop had been thoroughly overhauled. There is no clue whatever to the thieves, and although there is an electric light within 20 feet of the door the thieves were not seen entering the building. Whoever did the work were evidently acquainted with the place, as the lock does not work properly and a quick push on the door will throw it open.

FELL INTO A DITCH

Mrs. Davis Was Hurt In Washington Street.

A SMALL UNPROTECTED OPENING

Was the Trap Into Which She Stumbled. A Bill Will Likely Be Presented to Council—A Pile of Dirt at Fifth and Jackson Caused Another Accident.

An accident occurred Saturday evening which will probably result in another damage suit against the city.

In Washington street a ditch is being dug to make water connection with the block recently built by John J. Purinton. Saturday evening the place was barricaded and red lights were hung up, but the parties who did the work failed to protect one spot, about two feet wide, next to the street car track. Mrs. Davis was passing along the sidewalk about 8:30 o'clock, when she saw the barricade and started to go around it, walking into the unprotected part. Reverend Jennings, the Pittsburg minister who occupied the pulpit at the Methodist Protestant church, and William Bettridge, who were passing, saw the accident, and hastened to her assistance. She was picked up and carried into a neighboring store, and later conveyed to her home in Oblique street in a carriage. A physician was summoned and found the lady to be painfully, though not seriously injured.

Last evening when Mr. Fisher and wife were driving down Fifth street the horse ran into a pile of dirt placed in front of the property of Councilman Kent at Fifth and Jackson streets. No danger signal was displayed. The buggy was overturned, and the occupants were thrown into the roadway, but received no serious injuries. The ordinance requires that danger signals shall be displayed on obstructions of this kind. This is the second accident of a similar nature on that square within a week.

Planked Whitefish and Shad. Clubhouse fish, as a rule, confined to clubhouses, where large, open fires are accessible, but Mrs. S. T. Rorer, in "The Ladies' Home Journal," tells how planked fish may be served to perfection in the smallest and most modest home in America.

"The peculiar flavor imparted by the heating plank makes the fish more delicious than when cooked in any other way. If one has a gas stove, the method is quite simple, but the oven of a coal range may also be used with success. Secure a two inch plank the size of the oven, made from hard wood, oak or hickory. When ready to use, put it in the oven until it is so hot that you cannot bear your hand on it for an instant. Have the fish split down the back. Put it, skin down, on the hot plank. Dust with salt and pepper and baste with melted butter. In an ordinary coal stove, put it on the oven bottom, close the oven door and bake for 30 minutes, basting two or three times. When the fish is done, take it from the oven, garnish with parsley and lemon and send it to the table on the plank, placed on a Japanese lacquer tray just a little larger than the plank. Whitefish may be planked in the same way."

HE LOVES THE URBAN.

J. A. MacNeill Whistler Is Essentially a Painter of the Town.

Whistler rejoices in the harmony of form and color wherever it confronts him, in the tumble down shop as in the noble palace, in the disorder of the market place as along the terraces of the stately garden. Mr. Whistler has made many portraits on the stone, but his motive has ever been suggested by the pictorial aspect of men and women and the world he lives in. His concern is with the realities of life, that poetry may be the result—the poetry of paint or pencil.

To him the country is scarce less an enemy than it was to the De Goncourts, who saw in it one large channel house. Town has ever had for him a more irresistible charm. London, of

Paris, the elegant, the dainty, the distinguished city of vast vistas and terraced gardens, have held him by a more potent spell than plowed field and meadow land, than green valleys winding among the hills. He would rather see the fog lifting and falling on the street's long facade than the cloud shadows drifting across the mountain side. He would find more majesty in the forest of masts along the quays than in the greenest depth of Fontainebleau or Sherwood. In the city he has painted his nocturnes, and it is the city that has been the inspiration of his needle. With the exception of a very occasional etching, I do not remember a landscape by Mr. Whistler. And, as with his paintings and plates, so with his lithographs. When he has worked out of doors, it has been in London or Lyme Regis, in Paris or Vitre.—Elizabeth Robins Pennell in Scribner's.

THE OLD CLIPPER SHIPS.

Sensations Not to Be Had Nowadays on Board Record Breaking Liners.

"One of the youngsters asked me the other day," said the old skipper, "if I had ever been to Europe on a record breaking liner. I told him I hadn't and never wanted to go there that way. It is just a question of engineers and stokers, mere landsmen, on a big liner, and I'd rather ship before the mast, even on one of your lubberly 40 day, steel, square riggers with bows like a canalboat, than go on a steamship. It would be just about as interesting to me as a trip on a railroad train."

"The kind of sailing I like it will never be the privilege of you young fellows to indulge in. You will never know the fun of having a clipper craft as sharp as a steamboat under your feet jumping across the seas under a press of canvas never seen on ocean going sailing vessels nowadays, with her rigging as tant as iron bars, and your shipmates holding your hair on your head."

"What she can't carry she may lug," was the text at sea then. I remember when I was in the clipper Northern Light we carried stunsails slap into Boston harbor, making the famous passage of 76 days 4 hours from San Francisco. Our ship worked like a basket, but we had shipped a double crew for the run, and one crew did nothing but pump ship. There was some cracking on of sail when ships of 2,000 tons or more had all their top hamper whiskered over the lee side while the skipper was turning to spit over the taffrail. Even after that some of the ships made good passages. It's a funeral nowadays to lose a topgallant mast."—New York Sun

DEAFNESS AND BLINDNESS Need Not Be Endured.

Do you want that Deafness Cured?
Do you want those Noises in your ears stopped?
Do you want that Catarrh Cured?
Do you want those weak, watery eyes cured?
Do you want those cross eyes straightened in one minute without pain?
Do you need glasses, and want them fitted correctly?
If so, consult

DR. ARTHUR L. PAYNE.

Oculist, Aurist and Neurologist.

Rooms 4 and 5, Porter Bldg. Consultation Free

Dr. Arthur L. Payne makes no pretenses of infallibility. He is a specialist because he saw early in life that the span of this existence is too brief to allow any person to master all the mysteries of medicine or to treat successfully all the diseases that human flesh is heir to. Therefore he chose for his research, his study and his practice those that afflicted the most delicate organs—the eye, ear, throat and nervous diseases. To these he has devoted the years of his life, and in their treatment he has attained a proficiency so remarkable that the world of practitioners has given him credit for being authority in all such diseases.

Deafness Can Be Cured.

We speak within bounds when we say that 70 per cent of the deafness of the present generation is traced back to catarrh in some form or other. Dr. Payne has relieved in one treatment, permanently cured in from one to four months, cases of catarrh deafness of years existence. Remember, it is no matter how deep seated or of how long standing, any case of catarrh can be cured, either in young or aged.

Catarrh Can Be Cured.

We make no exceptions to the above statement. He can cure any case of catarrh, in from one to four months' treatment, no matter of how long standing, how aggravated, hyper-trophic catarrh, it can be cured and we know that he can cure it.

If you have tried old methods there is no reason why you should not try Dr. Payne, for he can positively guarantee that his methods are new and that they have relegated to the shadows of oblivion the old and inefficient methods. His treatment for catarrh and deafness reaches every sore spot from the office of the nose to the deepest part of the lungs and to the innermost recesses of the middle ear. Instead of irritating it soothes, quiets, heals and cures.

Ringing Noises in the Ears.

Many thousands of people are annoyed with ringing noises in the ears. If you are deaf from any causes that are incurable he will tell you so in five minutes spent in examination. It costs you nothing to get his opinion. If you can't receive benefit by his new method of treatment he will tell you so. Bear in mind that it is not age alone that produces changes in the ear, but oftentimes the result of some ordinary ailment that can be reached by his treatment and cured in a short space of time.

Nervous Diseases Cured.

Among the most pitiable persons on earth are those afflicted with diseases such as chorea, St. Vitus' Dance, spinal irritation, hysteria, and associate diseases. Women afflicted with nervous troubles often go through life spending weeks and even months at a time confined to their beds when if properly treated and cared for they should have a life of enjoyment instead of one of illness. These cases can be cured by Dr. Payne's improved method of treatment.

Diseases of the Eye.

No Oculist has been more successful in the treatment of that delicate organ, "The Eye," than has Dr. Payne. His treatment for granulated lids, scum over the eyes, inflammation of the optic nerve, weak eyes, etc., has given universal satisfaction. His superior skill in operative work upon the eyes in itself bespeaks success.

TAKEN OFF THE DOCKET

Judge Smith Disposed of a Number of Cases.

MANY WERE FROM THIS PLACE

Litigants Either Settled Their Grievances or Failed to Push the Matter, and the Court Decided to Clear Them Off the Books—Grafton Iron Works Receiver.

Lisbon, April 5.—[Special.]—Before the final adjournment of court a number of cases were disposed of by settlement or dismissal.

Dell Hedley against James Hedley, asking for divorce was dismissed. They were married in East Liverpool in 1890. Wilful absence brought the case into court.

Matt Hayes against Harrison Rinehart was an appeal from Squire Manley's court to recover for labor. It was dismissed.

Pittsburg Dispatch against Hartley Ellis was also dismissed. The paper wanted $472, a judgment having been rendered in Pittsburg.

The case of D. E. McNicol against Robert L. McKenty to compel the correction of an agreement and to recover $750 was settled. It was filed two years ago.

John Randolph against George Perkins, marshal of Salineville, was dismissed. He wanted $1,000 for alleged violation of office.

Frank Tallis against Ella W. Allison an appeal from the court of Squire Rose, to recover for rent, was dismissed. Hannah Coy against Joseph Falloon, to recover $810 for housekeeping for the defendant was dismissed.

The case of Thos. C. Jenkins against Philo DeBee, was settled. Judgment for $46.40 was given in Squire Rose's court, and the action was taken up to marshal liens and claims against East Liverpool property.

The contempt proceedings filed last October against Thomas Mackey, of East Liverpool, for having disobeyed the court's orders in not paying alimony to his wife, was settled. Mackey was $56 in arrears.

M. H. Marietta against Joseph Hanum, was dismissed, but without prejudice.

G. Y. Travis has been appointed to succeed A. R. Mackall as guardian of E. E. Applegate, of Liverpool. The bond is $1,100.

The guardian of A. R. Mackall has returned to the court the return of the private sale of the personal property, which was confirmed.

The Salem Iron company, operating the Grafton furnace and rolling mill at Leetonia, were sued this morning by the Carbon Limestone company, asking four promissory notes aggregating $6,153.80; also to recover on an account for limestone $1,485.59. The notes were given in Pittsburg in 1896-97 to the Bessemer Limestone company who transferred them to the plaintiff, while the account was also made with the Bessemer company and assigned for a consideration.

The defendants own valuable property in Leetonia, and it is claimed that during the past year they have placed incumbrances in large amounts upon it, and disposed of a large portion of it, with intent to defraud creditors. The chattel property alone, it is claimed, is mortgaged to McKelvey & Co., of Leetonia, for $103,541, largely in excess of its worth, and only done to place it beyond reach of creditors.

M. J. Childs was this morning appointed receiver on an application filed by Billingsley, Taylor & Clark. He assumed his duties at once.

The court has affirmed a report filed by W. W. Hole, as referee, in the case of the Golding & Sons company against the American Porcelain Manufacturing company. It has been pending for seven years, and according to the report a cash dividend of $1,378.98 will be distributed.

Good Sermons.

The Rev. Dr. Jennings, editor of the Methodist Recorder, delivered two eloquent sermons at the Methodist Protestant church yesterday.

The Rev. Dr. Holmes preached to a large congregation at the First M. E. church last night.

Rev. O. S. Reed was greeted by a large congregation at the Christian church last night. His sermon on "What and Where Is Heaven" was greatly enjoyed.

"Political Power" was the subject of a splendid address delivered by Rev. Charles O'Meara at St. Stephen's last evening.

On the River.

The river has now reached a stage of 7 feet and 3 inches, and is falling slowly. Passed up—James Moren, Princess, Risher, Mariner, Ben Hur, Kanawha, Keystone State. All the packets had good cargos, and the Kanawha put a lot of freight off here.

A Good Day.

There were 78 cars handled in the local yards Saturday. Forty-nine cars were received, all of them being loaded. The number loaded in the sheds was 19, those on the siding 10. This was the largest day's work of the week.

TOOK AWAY TROUSERS

IN THE GLARE OF ELECTRIC LIGHT

They Knew the Lock Was None of the Best, and Took Advantage of the Absence of a Policeman From That Part of Town.

Early yesterday morning thieves entered the tailor shop of S. Hoskinson, corner of Fourth and Market streets.

The lock on the front door was broken, and from all appearances the burglars did not have much trouble in entering the place.

When Mr. Hoskinson arrived yesterday morning the front door was standing open, and he knew at once something was wrong. Investigation developed that two pairs of trousers, a coat and a pair of shears had been stolen, while the remainder of the goods in the shop had been thoroughly overhauled.

There is no clue whatever to the thieves, and although there is an electric light within 20 feet of the door the thieves were not seen entering the building. Whoever did the work were evidently acquainted with the place, as the lock does not work properly and a quick push on the door will throw it open.

FELL INTO A DITCH

Mrs. Davis Was Hurt In Washington Street.

A SMALL UNPROTECTED OPENING

Was the Trap Into Which She Stumbled. A Bill Will Likely Be Presented to Council—A Pile of Dirt at Fifth and Jackson Caused Another Accident.

An accident occurred Saturday evening which will probably result in another damage suit against the city.

In Washington street a ditch is being dug to make water connection with the block recently built by John J. Purinton. Saturday evening the place was barricaded and red lights were hung up, but the parties who did the work failed to protect one spot, about two feet wide, next to the street car track.

Mrs. Davis was passing along the sidewalk about 8:30 o'clock, when she saw the barricade and started to go around it, walking into the unprotected part. Reverend Jennings, the Pittsburg minister who occupied the pulpit at the Methodist Protestant church, and William Bettridge, who were passing, saw the accident, and hastened to her assistance. She was picked up and carried into a neighboring store, and later conveyed to her home in Oblique street in a carriage.

A physician was summoned and found the lady to be painfully, though not seriously injured.

Last evening when Mr. Fisher and wife were driving down Fifth street the horse ran into a pile of dirt placed in front of the property of Councilman Kent at Fifth and Jackson streets. No danger signal was displayed. The buggy was overturned, and the occupants were thrown into the roadway, but received no serious injuries. The ordinance requires that danger signals shall be displayed on obstructions of this kind. This is the second accident of a similar nature on that square within a week.

Planked Whitefish and Shad.

Planking fish is, as a rule, confined to clubhouses, where large, open fires are accessible, but Mrs. S. T. Rorer, in The Ladies' Home Journal, tells how planked fish may be served to perfection in the smallest and most modest home in America.

"The peculiar flavor imparted by the heating plank makes the fish more delicious than when cooked in any other way. If one has a gas stove, the method is quite simple, but the oven of a coal range may also be used with success. Secure a two inch plank the size of the oven, made from hard wood, oak or hickory. When ready to use, put it in the oven until it is so hot that you cannot bear your hand on it for an instant. Have the fish split down the back. Put it, skin down, on the hot plank. Dust with salt and pepper and baste with melted butter. In an ordinary coal stove, put it on the oven bottom, close the oven door and bake for 30 minutes, basting two or three times. When the fish is done, take it from the oven, garnish with parsley and lemon and send it to the table on the plank, placed on a Japanese lacquer tray just a little larger than the plank. Whitefish may be planked in the same way."

Letter Received at Chillicothe, O., From Their Victim's Brother.

CHILLICOTHE, O., April 1.—The developments in the Bender case grow interesting. Detective Caldwell received a letter from Edward York of Denver, a brother of Dr. W. H. York, who was murdered. He says there is no proof the Benders were killed. They were helped away by money, he says.

Two strange men arrived in the city and made quiet inquiries about the Benders. They are thought to be detectives. In the meantime Caldwell keeps the hiding place of his people a secret. Edward York may come here to see the suspected persons.

HE LOVES THE URBAN.

J. A. MacNeill Whistler Is Essentially a Painter of the Town.

Whistler rejoices in the harmony of form and color wherever it confronts him, in the tumble down shop as in the noble palace, in the disorder of the market place as along the terraces of the stately garden. Mr. Whistler has made many portraits on the stone, he has worked much out of doors, but his motive has ever been suggested by the pictorial aspect of men and women and the world he lives in. His concern is with the realities of life, that poetry may be the result—the poetry of paint or pencil.

To him the country is scarce less an enemy than it was to the De Goncourts, who saw in it one large charnel house. Town has ever had for him a more irresistible charm. London, of

The mysterious distances, the glooms Romantic, the august And solemn shapes.

Paris, the elegant, the dainty, the distinguished city of vast vistas and terraced gardens, have held him by a more potent spell than plowed field and meadow land, than green valleys winding among the hills. He would rather see the fog lifting and falling on the street's long facade than the cloud shadows drifting across the mountain side. He would find more majesty in the forest of masts along the quays than in the greenest depth of Fontainebleau or Sherwood. In the city he has painted his nocturnes, and it is the city that has been the inspiration of his needle. With the exception of a very occasional etching, I do not remember a landscape by Mr. Whistler. And, as with his paintings and plates, so with his lithographs. When he has worked out of doors, it has been in London or Lyme Regis, in Paris or Vitre.—Elizabeth Robins Pennell in Scribner's.

THE OLD CLIPPER SHIPS.

Sensations Not to Be Had Nowadays on Board Record Breaking Liners.

"One of the youngsters asked me the other day," said the old skipper, "if I had ever been to Europe on a record breaking liner. I told him I hadn't and never wanted to go there that way. It is just a question of engineers and stokers, mere landmen, on a big liner, and I'd rather ship before the mast, even on one of your lubberly 40 day, steel, square riggers with bows like a canalboat, than go on a steamship. It would be just about as interesting to me as a trip on a railroad train."

"The kind of sailing I like it will never be the privilege of you young fellows to indulge in. You will never know the fun of having a clipper craft as sharp as a steamboat under your feet jumping across the seas under a press of canvas never seen on ocean going sailing vessels nowadays, with her rigging as taut as iron bars, and your shipmates holding your hair on your head."

"What she can't carry she may lug," was the text at sea then. I remember when I was in the clipper Northern Light we carried stun'sails slap into Boston harbor, making the famous passage of 76 days 4 hours from San Francisco. Our ship worked like a basket, but we had shipped a double crew for the run, and one crew did nothing but pump ship. There was some cracking on of sail when ships of 2,000 tons or more had all their top hamper whiskered over the lee side while the skipper was turning to spit over the taffrail. Even after that some of the ships made good passages. It's a funeral nowadays to lose a topgallant mast."—New York Sun

DEAFNESS AND BLINDNESS Need Not Be Endured.

Do you want that Deafness Cured?
Do you want those Noises in your ears stopped?
Do you want that Catarrh Cured?
Do you want those weak, watery eyes cured?
Do you want those cross eyes straightened in one minute without pain?
Do you need glasses, and want them fitted correctly?

DR. ARTHUR L. PAYNE.

Oculist, Aurist and Neurologist.

Rooms
4 and 5,
Porter Bldg.
Consultation Free

Dr. Arthur L. Payne makes no pretenses of infallibility. He is a specialist because he saw early in life that the span of this existence is too brief to allow any person to master all the mysteries of medicine or to treat successfully all the diseases that human flesh is heir to. Therefore he chose for his life's work, and his practice those that afflicted the most delicate organs—the eye, ear, throat and nervous diseases. To these he has devoted the years of his life, and in his treatment he has attained a proficiency so remarkable that the world of practitioners has given him credit for being authority in all such diseases.

Deafness Can Be Cured.

We speak within bounds when we say that 70 per cent of the deafness of the present generation is traced back to catarrh in some form or other. Dr. Payne has relieved in one treatment, permanently cured in from one to four months, cases of catarrh deafness of years existence. Remember, it is no matter how deep seated or of how long standing, any case of catarrh can be cured, either in young or aged.

Catarrh Can Be Cured.

We make no exceptions to the above statement. He can cure any case of catarrh in from one to four months' treatment, no matter how long standing, how aggravated, hyperthropic catarrh, it can be cured and we know that he can cure it.

If you have tried old methods there is no reason why you should not try Dr. Payne, for he can positively guarantee that his methods are new and that they have relieved the shadows of oblivion the old and inefficient methods. His treatment for catarrh and deafness reaches every sore spot from the orifice of the nose to the deepest part of the lungs and to the innermost recesses of the middle ear. Instead of irritating it soothes, quiets, heals and cures.

Many thousands of people are annoyed with ringing noises in the ears. If you are deaf from any causes that are incurable he will tell you so in five minutes spent in examination. It costs you nothing to get his opinion. If you can't receive benefit by his new method of treatment he will tell you so. Bear in mind that it is no age alone that produces changes in the ear, but oftentimes the result of some ordinary ailment that can be reached by his treatment and cured in a short space of time.

Nervous Diseases Cured.

Among the most pitiable persons on earth are those afflicted with diseases such as chorea (St. Vitus' Dance), spinal irritation, hysteria, and associate diseases. Women afflicted with nervous troubles often go through life spending weeks and even months at a time confined to their beds when properly treated and cared for they should have a life of enjoyment instead of one of illness. These cases can be cured by Dr. Payne's improved method of treatment.

Business men worn out by overwork, nervous, irritable, should consult him. By making careful diagnosis and studying the system of each individual case a cure is certain.

Diseases of the Eye.

No Oculist has been more successful in the treatment of that delicate organ, "The Eye," than has Dr. Payne. His treatment for granulated lids, scum over the eyes, inflammation of the optic nerve, weak eyes, willhairs, has given universal satisfaction. His superior skill in operative work upon the eyes in itself bespeaks success.
